Local BIDs to Host City Council District 3 Candidate Forum for the Public

Four candidates will discuss key issues related to small business and life in the urban core

With four candidates vying for the open seat in San Diego City Council, District 3, the 2020 election is shaping up to be a competitive local race. Moderated by Scott Lewis, CEO and Editor in Chief of the Voice of San Diego, the candidates at this free event will discuss and debate their ideas on issues that impact our urban core such as housing, mobility, and quality of life. Attendees will also have the opportunity to submit questions on topics that matter to them. This event is coordinated and sponsored by the Downtown San Diego Partnership, City Center BID, Hillcrest Business Association, Gaslamp Quarter Association, East Village Association, Mission Hills Business Improvement District, and Quartyard.
