After careful consideration, and in alignment with the recommendations regarding public events issued by statewide public health officials and information shared by the County and City of San Diego at a press conference today, we are postponing the Downtown San Diego Partnership Installation Dinner, featuring Mayor Faulconer's KEVtalk, scheduled for March 25 to a later date. Rescheduling the 850-attendee event will allow us to provide the experience our guests, partners, employees and vendors expect and deserve in a safe environment. We were thrilled to have a nearly sold-out event once again this year and a program both the Mayor and our team are still excited to share with you.

Full details of the postponement are in the process of being resolved, but we remain excited to host you later this year and will get back to you with more information and a new date in the coming weeks. For those who have already registered or purchased a sponsorship for the event, your registration and sponsorship will automatically be applied to the rescheduled date. The latest information regarding the event postponement is available here.

Your voice matters and we care about your feedback. Please email Kaitlin Phillips at kphillips@downtownsandiego.org with any questions or concerns.

We look forward to hosting you later this year. Until then, stay safe and healthy! You can find recommendations to prevent illness from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention by clicking here and San Diego County information here.
